Temple Includes Camp Tyson Men For Passover Eve Supper

Camp Tyson Men Temple Guests At Passover Supper

Jewish officers and men of Camp Tyson were guests of the Fidella Club of Temple B'nai Israel for the Passover Seder Supper held in Temple Center Wednesday evening. Irving Freedman is president of the Fidella Club.

Preparations for the supper were made by the Temple Sisterhood, Mrs. Walter Levy, president. The Sisterhood also served the elaborate meal.

Preceding the supper, congregational Rabbi Maurice Feuer conducted the Passover Eve services in the Temple.

Miss Rose Marie Schulmann entertained the supper guests with a number of violin selections, accompanied by Mrs. Feuer.

Charles Burnley led in community singing and played a group of popular selections at the piano. Guests from Camp Tyson joined in the entertainment with a number of presentations of their own.

A. S. Lindy, president of the congregation M'nai Israel, presided over the supper and presented the following guests who spoke to the assembly:

Rabbi Harry Merfeld, Jewish Chaplain at Camp Tyson; Chaplain Paul B. Cooper; Mort Greenstone representative of the Jewish Welfare Board; Captain Levy, who was in charge of the men from Paris; and Albert Stone, general manager of The Jackson Sun.
