

Fire – January 5, 1976

Sun Photo by Bob Arnold

Synagogue Fire

Congregation B'Nai Israel members remove Torahs from the synagogue during a fire which started in a wall heater during worship services Friday night. There was considerable smoke damage but physical damage to the building was light because of efficient work by the Jackson Fire Department, said David Richman, chairman of the synagogue ritual committee. Firefighters were very considerate during their operations, Richman said.